Sunday night at midnight, the deadline falls on the Photo Contest. The hour, which marks the end of the contest for local camera fans, is only the beginning for the committee of judges, who face a task of classifying and judging the many entries submitted.

The committee of judges, including Ralph Braddock, Los Angeles Times rotogravure editor; Charles Kerlee, nationally-known commercial photographer, and Robert Freeman, Los Angeles advertising art director, will announce their decisions at the opening of the Photo Show. All contest entries will be placed on display in the Plaza, beginning April 1st, with prize-winning photographs marked with ribbons.

In addition to three awards each in the scenic, action, and professional photography classes, and a Grand Award of a $125.00 Eastman magazine-loading movie camera for the most outstanding entry, three prizes will be awarded by a popular vote taken from spectators the first day of the show.

Winners of any of the three classes or the Grand Prize will not be eligible for one of the popular awards.

The contest was inaugurated last year by the Desert Inn, and proved so popular and attracted such widespread attention that the Palm Springs Associates decided to perpetuate the competition, and are sponsoring it this year.

Winners of last year's contest include Florence Weicker, who won the Grand Prize; King Vidor, first place in the action class; and Bill Smith in the scenic class. Chuck Abbott placed first in the class for professional photography.

Army Engineer Investigates Flood Damage

S. H. Hoyt, United States Army engineer, has been in Palm Springs during the past week investigating flood damage in the surrounding area. He has been guided to the flooded areas by Raymond Cree, Jerry Sanborn, A. F. Hicks, Francis Crocker, George Roberson, A. G. McManus, Philip Boyd, H. W. Otis, and others familiar with the "idiosyncrasies" of the desert mountain streams.

Engineer Hoyt presided at the flood control hearing held at Indio last Friday. A number of Palm Springs people attended the meeting, among them A. F. Hicks, Harold Hicks, Culver Nichols, Philip Boyd, A. G. McManus, H. W. Otis, and George Roberson. Supervisor Pittman, county chairman of the Federal flood control program, had charge of the meeting.

The army engineering department is investigating the flood damage, which will probably result in a complete survey being made as to the control measures to be undertaken and costs before a federal appropriation can be obtained. In the mean time it is believed state funds may be made available. The findings of the army engineers will be available to state authorities.

Four Palm Springs people are compiling reports for this community to be submitted to the federal and state governments. Culver Nichols' report will cover "Damage to the Water Shed;" Mrs. Pearl McManus will write about "Damage to Land Values," and Philip Boyd will report "Damage to Trade."

A Mexican by the name of Gregory Ramirez was arrested yesterday by Indian Officer Joe Wehmas, on the Indian reservation, while Ramirez was on his way to an Indian feast with a gallon jug of wine under his arm. Ramirez is in jail awaiting trial.

Who Wants To Help a Blind Person?

Here's an opportunity to render service to some worthy blind person.

Recently the Palm Springs Lions Club started to raise money to purchase a seeing-eye dog for some blind person. Believing $150 was all that would be required, the club raised $170.

Now word has come that $500 is needed, so the club must raise $300 more.

The club also plans on taking care of two local boys who need eye operations in order to restore normal sight to their eyes, and consequently needs all the money it can get for this purpose.

A complete description of the seeing-eye dog will be found in a detailed article on another page in this issue of The Desert Sun.

Tennis Champs To End Turney Here Sunday

Saturday and Sunday will see tennis at the top of the list of Palm Springs pastimes, for the semi-finals and finals of the Fourth Annual Invitational Tournament will hold most of the local populace agog. The semi-finals at the Tennis Club and finals at the Racquet Club will be the occasion for some of the finest tennis-playing ever displayed in these parts.

A feature of the final two days will be exhibition matches between Dorothy Bundy, third ranking woman player in the United States, and Glenn Hippenstein, promising young Southern California player, and the only representative from this area on the junior Davis Cup team, from which players for the cup competition, most intensive in the world, are chosen. Miss Bundy has just returned to this country after winning the Australian national women's championship, and her exhibition matches here will be her first play upon her return to the United States.

Leading the truly brilliant roster of players in the matches which have been holding away for the past two days is Joe Hunt, young U. S. C. student who is ranked fifth in national men's listings. Close on Hunt's heels in the matter of competitive play has

Buron Fitts to Address Masonic Club Tuesday

Buron Fitts, former lieutenant-governor of California and now the dynamic district attorney of Los Angeles county, will address the Palm Springs Masonic luncheon at Carl's Roof next Tuesday noon, March 29.

A large crowd is expected to hear Fitts discuss his favorite topic, "Crime."

Due to the fact that there is such wide-spread interest in the lecture, the Masons have thrown the meeting open to the men of Palm Springs. Dr. Russell M. Gray, president of the club, has extended an invitation to the Lions Club to attend, and all others interested are invited.

It will be strictly a stag affair, and all Masons in this area are especially urged to bring their friends. Reservations should be made before Tuesday morning at Carl's Restaurant, or with Dr. Gray or Secretary Francis Crocker. Cost of the luncheon is $1.00.

The Wednesday bridge club motored to Palm Springs and enjoyed the game at the Desert Inn. In attendance were Mesdames Mary Wiefels, H. W. Dill, Leonard Wood, John Weiland, A. J. Kobs, Beauford Hansen, Ed Hemmerling, George Fox, Vay Gray and Carl Barkow.

MORE POWER TO PALM SPRINGS

Miss Dorothy West, daughter of A. B. West, president of the Nevada-California Electric Corporation, closes the switch connecting Palm Springs with a third source of electricity. Already served by way of Banning and Indio, America's foremost Desert Resort now gets a reserve supply over a new $80,000 line recently constructed from Garnet. Watching the ceremony is Francis Crocker, Nev-Cal superintendent at Palm Springs. Miss West and her mother are spending the winter in Palm Springs at their home in Las Palmas Estates. Mr. West motoring from his office in Riverside for weekends.

Edom Road Is Being Paved

Within another week, the county road to Willis Palms will be paved all the way from Palm Springs to the Highway 99 at Edom with desert oil mix. The road is an extension of Ramon Road due east from the Field Club.

Property owners along the road, which follows the section lines, are standing the entire expense, paying for all the materials and labor and leasing the equipment. Recently they graded that part of the road from the sewage disposal plant to Edom. The county paved the road from Palm Springs to the sewage plant.

Oil was spread on the surface of the road early this week and it is now being mixed thoroughly, spread and rolled.

Miss Marylin Gray was the house guest of Carol-Ann Moore Wednesday night.

$66,000 Allocated For Palm Springs Road Improvement

Allocation of funds for state highway improvement was announced at Sacramento Tuesday. The road from Palm Springs, through Cathedral City to the junction of the Palms to Pines highway will receive $66,000.

Federal approval of state highway construction in the next year involving an expenditure of $9,960,000 — of which $481,000 would be allocated to Riverside county — was announced.

Forty-five projects in the state, of which three of the Southern California quota of 20 are to be in Riverside county, will receive $4,735,000 in federal funds and an additional $5,225,000 in state monies.

The Riverside projects include:

Santa Ana canyon route west of Corona, $360,000.

GOLD FOUND BY LOCAL PROSPECTOR

Moe Goldie of Palm Springs may have started a gold rush.

About a week ago Goldie, accompanied by a civil engineer and a mining engineer, left on a prospecting tour.

On Wednesday they returned here with about two pounds, $1,000 worth, of nuggets and gold dust. Pretty good picking for about three days' work.

They found the gold in a dry wash about 70 miles east of El Centro, near the road to Yuma. They recovered the gold from the sand by the "dry wash" method, placing it on a canvas and blowing the gravel and sand away with a pair of bellows.

The gold consists of nuggets from the size of rice to some as large as peas. Before the men returned to Palm Springs they filed on 16 claims for themselves and 13 Palm Springs friends. The group plan on locating the vein and sinking a shaft at that point. In the mean time they will go after the gold in the creek bed.

New Airline Service For Palm Springs

Palm Springs is now connected with Los Angeles and Imperial Valley by regular daily scheduled air service, which was inaugurated Monday by Valley Airways, Inc. Gus Parrish, lessee and manager of the Palm Springs Airport, is the local representative of the air line.

The schedule is as follows: plane leaves El Centro at 7 a. m., leaves Palm Springs at 8 and arrives Burbank at 9:15; plane leaves either Burbank or Grand Central at 4 p. m., arrives Palm Springs at 5:15 and arrives El Centro at 6:15.

Parrish said that later on, should traffic justify the move, a second trip from each base daily will be inaugurated. The fare from Palm Springs to Los Angeles on the new line is $10 one way and $18 round trip with an allowance of 35 pounds of baggage free.

This will be a year-round service, although in the summer months Palm Springs will be a telegram flag stop. In other words when local passengers wish to utilize the service, a telegram will be sent to the El Centro base or Grand Central Airport and the plane will stop enroute.

The new line is operating under executives of the former Aero Transport Corporation at Grand Central Airport. One of its chief executives is Larry Therkelsen, one of the best-known aviation figures in the country.

LYKKEN, NESMITH, PATTERSON HAVE BEST WINDOWS

Dr. Franz Buerger, who had charge of the window decorating campaign for the Lions Club on Desert Circus week, announced to the club yesterday that the first prize of $15 for the best decorated window in Palm Springs went to Lykken's Department Store. Ralph Nesmith received second prize and H. E. Patterson's Palm Springs Drug Co., third.

Desmond's, Bullock's and Village Pharmacy received honorable mention. The judges were Townsend Nether, Mrs. Freeman Gosden, Mrs. Melvin Eaton and Mrs. Ford.

Important people seen on the streets this week were Countess Di Frasso, the Earl of Warwick, Marion Breen, Charles Boyer, Herbert Marshall, Lee Russell, Dave Selznick, Mack Gordon, Janet Gaynor, Brian Aherne, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Roach, Robert Riskin, Lord and Lady Essendon, Al Jolson, Joseph Shildkrat, Eric Linden, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Ford, Reginald Owen, Frank Morgan, Charles Farrell, William Armstrong.

Women's Golf Turney April 25 to 27

The annual Palm Springs Women's Invitation Championship Golf Tournament, which will be held April 25-27, is attracting a larger list of feminine golfers than ever before. At first it was planned to limit the number of entries to 150, but the limit has now been set at 200. The committee in charge consists of Mrs. Thomas A. O'Donnell, Mrs. C. A. Campbell, Mrs. A. K. Bourne and Mrs. H. H. Timken.

There will be about 30 valuable prizes, chief of which is the O'Donnell Trophy for the championship, to be kept by the three-time winner. A replica of the trophy has been awarded each year. There will be prizes for low, second low, third low gross; second low and third low net. In six different flights, the championship, putting, Palm Springs, desert and non-handicap flights; also prizes for low gross round and low net round each day.

Mrs. Roper to Defend Title

Among the prominent women golfers who will be here are Mrs. L. N. Roper of Phoenix, who will defend her championship title.

Others who have entered so far are Mrs. Annie Rosenfield of Medford, Oregon; Mrs. Julia Makie, Mrs. M. C. Clancy and Mrs. A. R. Kelley of the Brentwood Country Club; and Mrs. F. (Continued On Page Nine)

Lease for Airport Arrives from Washington

Palm Springs moved forward one step more Monday toward its goal of a larger, more up-to-the-minute airport when the lease for a portion of Section 18 to be used as a local air field arrived in Riverside.

The lease was promptly submitted to the county board of supervisors. They in turn wrote a letter to Superintendent John W. Dady at Riverside, approving the lease as to form and terms of rental.

The next move will be for Superintendent Dady, or his representative here, H. H. Quackenbush, special agent in charge of the Palm Springs Indian reservation, to submit the lease to the members of the local tribe for their approval. The tribe is scheduled to meet Friday night to take up this and other matters.

When and if Indian sanction is given, the supervisors will officially sign the lease. It is provided that the lease will be assigned to Palm Springs when the village is incorporated.

It is anticipated that with things moving along as fast as they are on the airport project, work on the new field probably will be started early next fall.

ENGLISH WRITER'S HOME DAMAGED BY FIRE

A home owned by Mrs. Ethel Mengel and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Charteris, of London, England, was badly damaged by fire Friday evening. Among the things burned were the manuscripts of this English writer's newest books, soon to be published, which were in the living room.

It is believed the fire started from a cigarette, and the blaze occurred while Mr. and Mrs. Charteris were at the theatre. All of the contents of the living room was destroyed and the other rooms were damaged by smoke and will therefore have to be redecorated. The residence is on Paseo El Mirador.

Toothpaste Heiress Engaged to Singer

Hazel Fobes, former show girl and toothpaste heiress, said at Palm Springs Sunday she is engaged to Harry Richman, singer and transatlantic flyer.

Buick Sales More Than Last Year

Harlow H. Curtice, president of the Buick division of General Motors, announces that the Buick production rate has been increased to four days a week with March output scheduled to average about 800 cars daily.

At the same time, he pointed out that Buick dealers in the United States are doing a greater volume of both new and used car business than they did at this time a year ago with sales showing a continued increase over last year.

March production schedules call for over 16,000 cars as compared with approximately 11,800 produced in February, he said. He added that the increased schedules will involve increased hours for about 12,300 employees who hitherto have been on a 24-hour week.

Domestic retail deliveries of Buick motor cars during the last 10 days of February totaled 3,307 units, according to sales department figures, comparing with 3,169 in the previous 10 days and with 1,832 in the corresponding period a year ago. February domestic sales aggregated 9,336 cars against 5,141 in February a year ago. Export sales brought the total to 10,392. This was the best February volume since 1928, the executive said.

Used car sales by Buick dealers during the last 10 days of February were 8,556 units, comparing with 8,304 in the previous 10 days and with 7,114 in the corresponding period of February a year ago. During the month Buick dealers sold 24,993 used cars compared with 22,147 in February a year ago.

Following a special meeting at the factory attended by zone managers, distributors and executives of the nationwide sales organization, Buick dealers throughout the country launched their 1938 spring sales campaign with a substantial increase in March and April volume as an objective.

First step in the program, according to Mr. Curtice, is a series of organization meetings being held in every territory in the United States under the direction of the zone managers.

Besides a complete dealer program, involving special sales activities tied together on a national scale, the campaign will be backed by a vigorous spring advertising campaign to run during the remainder of March and April, Mr. Curtice said. This involves the liberal use of newspaper, magazine and outdoor advertising as well as comprehensive direct mail and point of contact promotion.

The entire factory sales organization attended the preliminary session in Flint with more than 75 zone managers, distributors and other members of the field sales staff on hand. During the past week all of the 2,900 Buick dealers and their several thousand sales and service men had attended approximately 50 similar meetings in key points and launched upon a March and April program which it is estimated will double the retail sales of the past two months.

P. S. Players Choose Cast for "Woman of 30"

Nearly all the supporting players in the cast of "Woman of Thirty," the first play to be produced by the Palm Springs Players, have been chosen, according to Allan Wells, one of the organizers of the Dramatic Workshop in Palm Springs.

George Houston, who will be remembered as Captain Calamity in the motion picture of the same name recently screened here in Palm Springs, has been chosen to take the part of Chris Gault.

Leone Sousa, who has recently returned from New York where she took a feature part in one of the season's Broadway successes, will play opposite Mr. Houston in the role of Lois Hume.

In the play Lois Hume, a modern woman of 31 who wished she were but 19, married Brant Dedman at the age of 21. At the time Lois thought that Brant was it, but soon found out that men change their spots when they marry and the inevitable divorce followed soon after the wedding.

This first lesson in matrimony made her wary but during the intervening years she grew passionately determined to get from life the happiness she knew existed for her if she could capture it.

Though she might not admit it, she has been on a more or less secret man-hunt—appalling thought and phrase for a person of her class, and something not to be conceded out loud or very often, even to herself. But there it is.

When the play opens she has met another man—there are always plenty of them after her. But this one brings a certain response; he is handsome and just daring and modern enough.

But what a surprise he has in store for her—and what further disillusionments. And then there crosses her path a meteor-like body who has a nasty way of cutting through the surfaces of things—he's something of a brute, it would seem, and very tough on the gentler sex. He sets them up at a dizzy height and demands that they sit there. He's headed for a fall, this guy, the minute he measures his steel against that of a female swordsman like this one; and what a fall he does take. The girl too, the girl of 31 and 19—who will be the same at 51 and probably 81. Gosh, but she's swell: why didn't we meet a girl like that?

But Lois Hume and Chris Gault aren't all the story in the play, "Women of Thirty." There are two free women with stilettos in their speech and two newly-weds whom Lois and Chris save from the "Ride to Reno," and last but not least, that ex-husband played by Bill Beird from Smoke Tree ranch, who tries to stage a comeback with Lois, but, what's the sense in giving the whole show-plot away. Wait till you see it.

A note of warning to the ladies should be sounded here—it's not the play to take your husband to unless you've long since lost any doubts. Wait till you see it.

Navajo Rugs Prove Best for Desert Homes

Some of the most interesting homes in Palm Springs have followed the Indian motif throughout in the furnishing.

"Navajo rugs are becoming more popular every year for desert homes," said F. W. Watson, proprietor of Indianoya, Indian Trading Post. "There are many reasons why desert dwellers prefer Navajo rugs. They are very colorful, interesting and durable, notwithstanding the grinding sand that is tracked in better than any other type of rug. For this reason these rugs are the most economical." They are made by desert Indians for desert people.

Indianoya has always carried a large stock of Indian-made merchandise for the home. All sorts of decorative Indian arts and crafts, for every room of the house, are to be found there.

SHORT WAVE RAYS RELIEVE COLDS

Heat Destroys Infection of Sinus, Medical Center Reveals

BOSTON, Jan. 21.—A quick and effective treatment for the common cold and sinus infections was announced tonight by the New England Medical Center.

This treatment is by a new type of short wave machine which concentrates and directs the rays onto infected areas, and, through heat, destroys the infection.

In treating a head cold, for instance, the rays are applied to the nasal region of the face. Doctors at the Center's Boston dispensary said the treatment gave no pain and no unpleasant sensation.

Six hundred patients were treated before physicians revealed their findings.

Bowling League Score

The Coca Cola Keglers were full of electricity Tuesday evening and threw a few too many staves for the Nev-Cal Electric team. Jack Jenkins, the local automobile man, had 5 staves in succession and ended with a fine game of 221. He was largely responsible for the 3 point victory over the League leaders. Smoke Tree Ranch took all 4 points from the El Paseo Bowlers and claim to be contenders for the championship. The El Paseo Team had a bad night, losing one game by only 10 points. The second place Bankers took three points from the Safeway Stores and thus gained two points on first place.

The two prize games for the evening go to Ernie Fors and Ken Fussell who knocked the mighty maples for games of 88 and 95 respectively.

VIEWS ON INCORPORATION

When—and if—incorporation becomes more than a petition, a serious job will lie before those first councilmen. The necktie of city government will be tied tight about their necks and knotted. Snarls of government are not easily untangled. Those councilmen will undoubtedly be a badly bewildered group.

Various wards will elect men representative of successful business in Palm Springs. Inasmuch as even the largest business in the village is actually a comparative small unit to manage, it will be a big jump to the management of what we may term a civic corporation.

Running a going winter resort village is a tremendously important task. The government such as we will have may be compared to the corporation type of business operation. Each has a board of directors—or councilmen each is owned by a large group of stockholders—or voters; each develops politics, particularly the public corporation; each is expected, theoretically at least, to return some form of dividend to the stockholders.

In considering the proposed incorporation of Palm Springs it is this last point of comparison which troubles us.

Directors of business corporations often disregard the great mass of small stockholders. The directors' actions are usually directed by personal motives or dictated by the more important stockholders. This violates a basic principle of the corporation, which is democracy. In Palm Springs—in our own corporation—we must be always alert to see that this same basic principle is not violated.

As applied to big or little governmental units, democracy is ordinarily conceived to represent the wishes and demands of the majority. This view is only half of the true conception, for real democracy also requires that full consideration and appreciation be given to the wishes and demands of the minority.

The responsibility of safeguarding the minority does not rest with the voters, but is a duty of the elected officials. They alone are in a position to determine what compromise is necessary between the two groups. Out of the compromises—and there must be many of them—come the civic dividends, payable not to the majority or minority, but to all.

None of us will question the good faith and earnest desires of the councilmen we elect. True, they will be rank amateurs in city government, but we must start the ball rolling somewhere. They will have vision, for vision is necessary to successful business, and they will be business men.

Vision is not enough. We would like to tack a prefix on the word and demand precision on the part of our councilmen. If they develop this quality, they will not only accurately look ahead into the future, but also apply the most circumspect judgment in their plans of how to meet it. Then, and only then, may we expect the generous dividends we so earnestly hope for from incorporation.

SHANNON PICKS PLATFORM

Frank Shannon has finally announced his election platform. He declares it to be "Palm Springs" and challenges anybody to name a better one. Believe us, it's good to have him in the running. If we were in the habit of wearing a hat down here, he is one man for whom we'd be willing to doff it every time we passed him on the street. For sincerity of purpose and honesty of opinion Frank Shannon ranks as a top-flight villager.

LEO CARRILLO

One little old lady is probably still telling her friends about the kiss she received from the Grand Marshal of the Desert Circus Parade. She had asked for Leo Carrillo's autograph, this little old lady, and he signed her book with a flourish. Then he demanded something in return. Leaning far down from his prancing Palomino, he bestowed the most gallant kiss in California on her cheek.

This incident occurred while the parade was delayed for twenty minutes or so in front of the Pacific Stores building. The kiss and autograph marked the only time Carrillo spent away from an animated conversation in Spanish he carried on with a group of Mexicans huddled in a large truck. It impressed us to observe the heir of four generations of California Dons fraternizing so intimately with his own people.

Sic Transit Gloria

(By G. E. Steunenberg)

Have you noticed that something has flown from our midst?

A landmark majestic and fair?

A historic feature has gone with the wind

And a fragrance has flown from the air!

It leaves us all gasping and groping for light!

O tell us, you bright evening star!

Shed light on the mystery, clear up the history:

Where is Frank Shannon's cigar?

How oft have we met it on Palm Canyon Drive!

We greeted it with a salute.

And some took their hats off whenever it passed,

For it wasn't a common cheroot.

Twas one of the finest; we knew by the smell

That was borne on the gale from afar.

No limburger cheese ever scented the breeze

With the fragrance of Shannon's cigar!

'Twas his steady companion wherever he went.

A sight for the tourists by day.

It served as a beacon for airplanes at night;

It's steady gleam showed them the way.

And wanderers lost on the vast desert waste

Came staggering in from afar.

Through the storm and the night they were guided aright

By the fragrance of Shannon's cigar.

But now it is gone and we've lost an old friend.

The old town will not be the same.

We would far rather see Tahquitz Falls fade away,

Or the great Desert Inn change its name!

Yea, the gas tank may vanish, the springs may dry up

And leave but a hideous scar.

But no wild mishap can so alter the map

As the passing of Shannon's cigar.

Forest and Game Are State's Prized Natural Values

"California must maintain its forest resources to properly support a maximum of fish, bird and animal life in our mountain areas," Regional Forester S. B. Show stated yesterday in an announcement from the San Francisco offices of the United States Forest Service.

"The nation is this week observing National Wildlife Week and from the support which nature lovers, organizations and public agencies are expected to give the occasion a more abundant future for wildlife seems assured," Show acclaimed. "Here in the Forest Service, fish and game management is considered fully as important as work in fire prevention, tree disease and insect control, timber management, or any other job. We welcome the observance of the week as a splendid means of encouraging the preservation and restoration of game in North America and in forwarding the management of wildlife in California. This state is fortunate in supporting some of the nation's best stocked trout streams and lakes and in having greater representation of wild animals and birds than almost any other region.

But we can maintain and restore this wildlife only if the forests and other wild lands are properly guarded against fires and other destructive forces."

Estimates of seasonal wildlife population in the 18 national forests of California, covering one-fifth of the area of the state, are: Blacktail deer, 111,000; mule deer species 148,000; bear 7,000; antelope 2,500; mountain sheep 325; elk 200; coyote 58,000; wildcat 18,900 and mountain lion 1,230. Valuable fur-bearing animals on the 20 million acres of California's national forest land are estimated as: Skunk 29,000; fox 24,000; mink 13,000; badger 9,200; weasel 12,000; marten 9,000; raccoon 6,000; muskrat 4,500; fisher 300; beaver 130 and otter 40.

The Forest Service in California last year assisted the California Division of Fish and Game in the distribution of nearly 9,000,000 trout.

Watch Snake Eat 15-Inch Lizard

Visitors at the Desert Museum in the Plaza witnessed a thrilling fight Monday morning when Don Admiral threw a 15-inch carnivorous lizard into the cage of his 46-inch king snake. A fierce battle ensued, the lizard fighting desperately for its life. It grabbed the snake by the jaw and would not let go until the snake finally subdued it by coiling around the lizard and crushed it. The snake required 5 minutes to swallow the lizard.

Don Admiral had a cute little gekko lizard that was quite a pet around the museum. It was very gentle, and squeaked just like a mouse. Monday morning Shelton Gray brought a 15-inch carnivorous lizard to the museum and put it into the little gekko's cage. In a short time there was only one lizard in the box, the big one having swallowed the little one.

"I'll fix you," declared Don Admiral. He grabbed the big lizard and put it in the cage with the king snake, and then the big fight started. Soon a crowd had assembled at the museum. Pictures were taken of the battle, which will be published in the Desert Magazine.

The king snake will be fed again next Monday morning at 10:30, and Admiral expects to have an even larger lizard on hand for the occasion. Anyone who can capture a large lizard is asked to bring it to the museum. The public is invited to witness the snake's banquet.

SUPPLEMENTAL REPORTS FOR FEDERAL ENGINEERS ON FLOOD SAID NEEDED

Supplemental reports for the use of military engineers concerning proposed riverside county flood control projects are necessary, according to Supervisor Walter V. Pittman.

Under the direction of Pittman and County Surveyor A. C. Fulmor, the supplemental reports are to be compiled by Guy Bogart, secretary of the county advisory flood control committee.

The additional information will segregate projects along the Santa Ana river, the San Jacinto river and the Whitewater river, it was said.

Motor for Pumping Plant

Rice, Calif., March 21—Requiring five railroad floaters to transport its various parts across the country, a huge electric motor arrived at this desert siding today for the Metropolitan Water District. The motor, which is rated at 12,500 horsepower, will be installed in the Eagle Mountain pumping plant on the Metropolitan Aqueduct.

Shipping notices received from the Los Angeles offices of F. E. Weymouth, general manager of the water district, showed that the electrical giant weighs 222,000 pounds. It is the first of six of such motors which will be placed in operation in the Eagle mountain and Hayfield pumping plants of the 392-mile aqueduct.

Located on the desert 200 miles east of Los Angeles, the Eagle mountain plant is one of the five aqueduct pumping plants which will lift a billion gallons of water a day a total height of 1600 feet over the mountain barriers that lie between the Colorado river and Southern California's coastal plain.

The initial development of these plants provides for the installation of three sets of pumps and motors in each plant. Each of the pumps, which are driven by the electric motors, will throw water at the rate of 90,000 gallons per minute. At the Eagle mountain plant, where the motor received today will be installed, the pumps will lift the water a height of 438 feet.

Electric energy to operate the motors will come over a 237-mile transmission line constructed by the Water district from Boulder Dam to each of the five plants along the Metropolitan Aqueduct. Construction work on the pumping plants and other features of the aqueduct is approximately 80 per cent completed at the present time, and the great water supply system is expected to be placed in operation in 1939.

"Snow White" Coming Here For Three Days, April 1-2-3

"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" will play at the Plaza Theatre for three days, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, April 1, 2 and 3. Make your reservations early by phoning 3484.

"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," Walt Disney's gorgeously produced musical feature-length animated picture in Technicolor, was launched with a notable world-premiere at the Carthay Circle Theatre in Los Angeles shortly before last Christmas, followed thereafter with a record-breaking run at the New York's world-famed Radio City Music Hall, and has become the sensation of motion picture entertainment. It has taken its place in the front ranks of important film attractions.

In production for three years, and costing a million and a half dollars, "Snow White" is expected to establish a standard for future animated features in much the same manner that "The Birth of a Nation" influenced the epic cycle that followed.

The Disney picture is a drastic departure from previous technique in the animated field, in that living, credible beings have been created in the persons of Snow White, the seven dwarfs, the queen, the prince and other characters in the famous Grimm's fantasy. In addition, the art treatment departs radically from cartoon expression. An illusion of depth has been added through the use of the multi-plane camera, an invention perfected by Disney technicians. This new camera treatment makes three-dimensional figures out of characters drawn in a two-dimensional medium.

Added interest attaches to the eight musical numbers in the feature, the outstanding one being "Hi-Ho," a marching song sung by the dwarfs.

The story relates the adventure of a beautiful young scullery maid whose youth and charm arouse the envy of a wicked Queen, who plots in various ways to get rid of her forever. How the Queen nearly succeeds after seeking out Snow White in the latter's refuge among seven kindly dwarfs, and how the little heroine is finally rescued by her Prince Charming is pictured with exquisite artistry and humor combined.

"PARADISE FOR THREE" STARS FRANK MORGAN

One of the most amusing of this season's comedy dramas coming next Tuesday only to the Palm Springs Theatre in "Paradise for Three." The novel plot is carried out to perfection by the excellent performances of Frank Morgan, Robert Young, Mary Astor, Edna May Oliver, Florence Rice, Reginald Owen, Henry Hull and Herman Bing. Horgan portrays the rich capitalist who wins a contest and as a reward is sent to an Alpine resort for two weeks.

THE GREAT DELMAR COMES TO PALM SPRINGS THEATRE SUNDAY AND MONDAY

You'll shriek with laughter when The Great Delmar, world famous hypnotist and escape artist opens a two-day engagement at the Palm Springs Theatre, Sunday, March 27. Delmar has baffled police experts all over the world, escaping from all their handcuffs, locks and shackles in every instance. In addition to his famous escape act, Delmar is recognized as one of the most thorough hypnotists of this country, second only to the late Harry Houdini, and members of the audience will be invited on the stage to see for themselves how it is done. Much fun and many laughs are provided by this part of the entertainment.

In addition to Delmar the Palm Springs Theatre is showing "Romance in the Dark" on the screen with Gladys Swarthout in the leading role.

FAMED SINGERS LEAD MADCAP COMEDY CAST

As the romantic leads in "Romance in the Dark," which patrons of the Palm Springs Theatre will see beginning Sunday, March 27, Gladys Swarthout and John Boles prove that people may sing like gods and still behave very much like human beings when it comes to an affair of the heart.

In this story of romance and intrigue in gay Budapest, in which John Barrymore, fresh from his role in "True Confession," furnishes the chief comic interest, Boles is seen as the spoiled favorite of the Hungarian theatre, who turns his housemaid, Miss Swarthout, into a Persian princess, in order to play a trick on his best friend. When his friend fails for the friend. When his friend fails for the trick so completely that he turns the bogus princess into a star, Boles begins a mad pursuit to win his love back again.

"THE MAGNIFICENT BRUTE" AT EL PASEO THEATRE

"The Magnificent Brute," which opens tonight (Friday) for a five-day run at the El Paseo Theatre, is a thrill-packed comedy-drama starring academy award winner Victor McLaglen. It is a rough and tumble story of the steel mills, always carrying an evident vein of excitement and one in which there is an air of never knowing what is going to happen next. Drama is contrasted with he-man comedy. Suspense has been deftly applied. There is not very much love interest.

yet what there is has considerable strength. An excellent supporting cast includes Binnie Barnes, Jean Dixon, William Hall and Henry Armetta.

MacDONALD AND EDDY CO-STAR FOR 4TH TIME

Local Casaba Artists Defeat Five Desert Road

With a "Hey, Nonny, Nonny," the Palm Springs basketball team rushed into action against the undefeated Richfield five of Indio on Wednesday night at Coachella high school.

Burned up because of the loss of Monday night's game, due to the absence of its stellar players, the Palm Springs boys were determined to win, and mainly due to this determination, with some excellent floor work thrown in, they conquered a more experienced and far heavier team by a score of 27 to 23.

At the end of the half the score stood 12 all, and the last period of the game was bitterly fought before a Palm Springs victory was achieved.

High point man was Frank Kiech, who tallied 15 points with some remarkable shots, which drew applause from rooters of both teams. Kiech played an outstanding game, but much credit must be given to Ammenhouser, Stark, Sahlen and Murphy, who protected him with a perfect defense.

"Long John" Stark saved the day many times by being in the right place at the right time, while "Winning Walt" Ammenhouser played the game of his career in blocking all attempts to score by the Richfield players.

"Mighty Mite" Cliff Sahlen was not able to cage the ball as often as in past games, owing to being topped by the big Richfielders, but he was over the court like lightning and assisted Kiech in running up the winning score.

Roger "Red" Murphy, the lengthy center, played his usual consistent basketball, and while never sensational, can always be counted on when needed.

Best Game of Season

Wednesday's game was conceded to be the best battle staged at the Coachella high this season, and on next Wednesday evening, when the Palm Springs meet the Southern Pacific five, it is expected that the contest will draw a capacity house.

Localites Defeated Monday

Definitely off the gold standard was the Palm Springs basketball team on Monday night when it played the Richfield team of Coachella at the Coachella high school, and suffered a loss of ten points in the final score of 25 to 15. Crippled by the absence of Frank Keich and Roger Murphy, the Palm Springs players put up a good fight, but lack of coordination, gave the Coachella team the edge. However, in the last half the Palm Springs boys took a spurt, and while the score was 19 to 6 at the end of the half, the village team tallied equally with its opponents, 9 and 9, making the final count 25 to 15.

Runyan of Coachella was high man with an individual score of 14, while "Shorty" Sahlen and Walt Ammenhouser of Palm Springs accounted for two baskets each.

ADDITIONAL CCC CAMPS FOR FLOODED SECTIONS WANTED BY SUPERVISORS

Movement to secure additional federal CCC camps for the flooded counties of Southern California was joined in by the Riverside supervisors Monday.

Acting on the suggestion of Roger Jessup, chairman of the Los Angeles board of supervisors, the local board authorized Chairman W. C. Moore to take steps for urging the establishments of more conservation camps for the repair of fire trails and mountain roads, damaged by the high waters.

The movement is also being pushed in Ventura and San Bernardino counties.

Suicide's Body Found Near Desert Road

"Suicide—unknown male, about 60 years of age."

That is the manner in which a desert tragedy will be recorded in the official books of Riverside county coroner's office, after investigation of the body found yesterday five miles northwest of Palm Springs near Garnet and Seven Palms.

According to Deputy Coroner Seymour Cash, who investigated the case yesterday afternoon, the man, evidently a transient, had hanged himself from the limb of a large mesquite bush. A small rope that had been used was still about the neck of the decomposed body when it was discovered.

It is thought the death of the man occurred about two weeks ago, Cash said. Near the body was a small bundle of personal belongings of no value. The body was clothed in worn, tattered garments.

Although the tragedy had taken place less than a mile from a well-traveled desert road, the body was so hidden from view that it was only through chance it was discovered yesterday.

Deputy Sheriff Lee Smith of the Indio sub-station assisted in investigating the case.

Negro Folk Lore Presented at Desert Inn

Possessed with a charming personality and a humorous appreciation of the colored people with whom she has some in contact most of her life, Virginia Bassett, former Birmingham girl, received a warm welcome from Desert Inn guests who filled the lounge on Monday evening to hear Miss Bassett's presentations of Negro folk-lore.

Miss May Robson, beloved movie star, who introduced Miss Bassett to Desert Inn guests last year, was unable to accompany her this winter due to a pressing studio schedule. Miss Bassett's program was made up of an unique and authentic treatment of humor, wit, pathos and religion characteristic of the colored race.

At Smoke Tree Ranch

Desert Circus Week was packed with events and merriment for Smoke Tree Ranch. The gay whirl of activities began with a rodeo and gymkhana held Saturday afternoon, March 12th, in the Smoke Tree gymkhana field. Victorious in the calf roping was Jim Laycock, with the stop-watch clocking him at 18 seconds; Charlie Lynne was second, with time of 23 seconds. The musical chairs event was won by Joan Gilfillan, Towner Wilcox second, and Mary Anna Markham third. Thrills of the afternoon were provided by Herb Melby and Jay Caldwell, who rode bucking horses.

Many Smoke Tree guests were seen at the Big Top Ball at the Racquet Club Saturday night, their costumes ranging from top hat and tails, to western regalia, complete with ten-gallon hat and jingling spurs.

Following a brisk moonlight ride to Andreas Canyon, Tuesday night, March 15th, the guests were served sizzling steaks, broiled over an open campfire. The songs and guitar of Dusty Adams and Johnny Boyle provided entertainment around the campfire after dinner.

Ranch Hoe-Down

Hosts at a real ranch hoe-down were William Bierd, of North Hollywood, and J. Cheney Wells, of Southbridge, Mass., Wednesday night, March 16th. All permanent and temporary inhabitants of Smoke Tree Ranch were invited to the Ranch house, and dancing was enjoyed to the sprightly tunes of an old-fashioned dance orchestra.

St. Patrick's Day—the big day of the Desert Circus—found Smoke Tree taking active part in all of the day's activities. The Ranch tally-ho was entered in the parade, filled with belles dressed in costumes of the days of 1888, and was followed by many of the horseback riders, in elaborate western costume. Smoke Tree guests attended the Circus and the Circus Ball at the Field Club with great interest.

Big Apple lessons continued Friday night in the Ranch house.

Smoke Tree News Notes

Mrs. Murray MacLeod and Murray MacLeod of Smoke Tree Ranch have terminated an extended stay in Palm Springs, and will be at the Chapman Park Hotel in Los Angeles during the next month.

Mr. and Mrs. John Litel of Hollywood were house guests of the Jerry Cowans at Smoke Tree Ranch during Desert Circus Week.

Mrs. Mary Thomas Miller has returned to the Smoke Tree Ranch Colony, after a three weeks' visit to her home at Atherton, California.

"How Did It Happen?"

Several weeks ago John Munholland broke his arm, and ever since that time he and members of his staff in the real estate office of Munholland & Co., have been besieged with the question "How Did It Happen?"

To fully inform all the sympathetic friends, Mr. Munholland's secretary, Sylvia McHenry, wrote the following poem and handed it to The Desert Sun's inquiring reporter, and it is printed below. Mr. Munholland's first inkling regarding the poem will be when he reads it in The Desert Sun.

TO ANSWER THE MANY QUESTIONS OF "HOW DID IT HAPPEN?"

(By Sylvia McHenry)

One morning while lingering o'er coffee and bacon, John asked Lou if the pictures she'd taken Of their home with its background of snow and sun, As he wanted copies for Grandmother Mun.

Due to parties and social events, There hadn't been time for camera comments. So from the kitchen, John gathered a stool, And went into the yard beside the pool.

He placed the stool in extremely soft sand, Then climbed thereupon with camera in hand. The stool collapsed with very bad grace, Leaving John sprawled in the sand on his face.

Out to rescue him rushed his Lou Frantically calling for Lita, too. They hurried him down to Dr. Hill Who opened his mouth and stuffed in a pill.

Then hauled out a scientific contraption To see how his right arm responded to action. He poked him here, and he poked him there Until, I'm sure, John wanted to swear.

They kept him there 'till day was done Affording the doctor a lot of fun; Then sent him home without vigor or vim Poor John looked like something the cat had dragged in.

Bright and early the following day John came to the office, but just to play. He sat down and laughed with a lot of glee; For he wasn't able to sign checks, you see.

The creditors have to patiently wait And think about that future date When the old right arm will surely mend And the fun they'll have when John's money they spend.

John's experiences have been numerous and odd He's fortunate not to be under the sod. Don't know exactly how to end this darned thing So guess I'll just say, the arm's still in a sling.

Garage Can Be Built With FHA Loan

A modern garage is a distinct asset to a property. Such a structure may be built under the Property Improvement Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration.

The garage may be used for other purposes than storing the family's car. Shelves can be built in to hold tools and extra parts for the car. Provision may be made for putting away screens, ladders, children's outdoor playthings, etc. Garden tools can be kept in a cabinet if there is no storage space for them in the basement of the house.

A flat-roofed garage may be converted into a very attractive roof terrace. A stairway leading up from the garden, a railing, or boxes for hedges and flowers can be added. If there are small children in the family, a high railing can be installed and the area can be used as an outdoor playroom.

The Property Improvement Credit Plan authorizes approved financial institutions to advance credit, not in excess of $2,500, exclusive of charges, for the purpose of financing the building of new structures. The Federal Housing Administration insures the institution against loss up to 10 per cent of the total amount loaned by it under this plan.

Electrical Outlets Keep Up With Trend

With more and more electrical appliances on the market, the house of today needs more outlets than was considered essential in a house built 10 years ago. When buying a home that was built some time ago, it is wise to have an experienced electrician check the wiring system.

A house may be completely rewired or additional electric work done under the terms of the Property Improvement Plan of the Federal Housing Administration. Banks or other financial institutions advance the funds for the work and are insured against loss by the Housing Administration.

Now Is The Time To Build in Palm Springs

Contractors Plan To Reduce Building Cost 15%

At a recent meeting of the Palm Springs Contractors Association, a comprehensive drive to reduce building costs about 15% was launched.

The contractors feel that if the material dealers, the artisans and the contractors work together, costs can be lowered to the level of a year ago, which would result in greater prosperity to the entire community, and especially to the building industry, employers and employees alike.

The construction of a great many homes during last summer and fall was postponed because prices had risen sharply above the estimates based on last spring's costs. With the price level of a year ago restored, it is assured that many of the postponed projects will proceed. The association has established a wage scale, effective April 1, which it believes will aid in lowering business costs.

The Palm Springs Association, having a membership of 35, is a branch of the Building Contractors Association of Southern California, which has a membership of 8,000. It is comprised of all the licensed contractors of Palm Springs and several building material dealers. It was organized for the purpose of stimulating building activities and for the betterment of the building industry, to stabilize employment, and to maintain higher building standards at lower costs.

Section 2 of the constitution is as follows: "The purpose for which said association is formed to bind the members thereof together for the general betterment of themselves and their profession; to raise the standards of ethics and practices; to promote recognition of their profession by others; to promote a spirit of confidence between its members; to cooperate with established organizations and recognized authority for the purpose of assisting any movement for the betterment of conditions within the construction industry and that it is an association that does not contemplate pecuniary profit or gain to the members thereof."

Improvements To Commercial Buildings

A list of some of the repairs and improvements to commercial and miscellaneous buildings which may be financed under the Property Improvement Credit Plan has been compiled by the Federal Housing Administration.

The list includes built-in air-conditioning systems, ash-removal equipment when part of the heating system, burglar-alarm systems, elevators, escalators, fire-alarm systems, fire escapes, fire-hose systems (mounted on reels and permanently attached to the water system), sprinkler systems, etc., etc.

FHA INSURANCE

The Federal Housing Administration lends no money. It insures loans made by private financial institutions operating under provisions of the National Housing Act.

Painting Should Not Outweigh Good Construction

Painting and trim are the two most conspicuous features of a house to the layman's eye. To the casual observer, the frame of the house, the wiring and piping, even the plaster and floors are concealed behind these two items. Only the experienced observer looks beyond them.

The house that is down at the heels can be brought up to date, thus increasing its value and improving the appearance of the entire neighborhood. Funds for repairs, improvements, and additions may be obtained from private financial institutions which operate under the Property Improvement Plan of the Federal Housing Administration.

Before any other repairs are made, a house should be checked for structural soundness. If the value of the property is to be maintained, it must be basically sound. Repairs of this order should be made first.

It is poor economy to agree to one less coat of paint or enamel in an effort to cut down the cost of building or repair. Before the work is started there should be a definite agreement as to the number of coats and the quality of the paint to be used.

Cheap millwork shows up in opened joints, warped edges, and raised grain. Grades of wood and methods of finish and joining should be agreed upon before the contract is signed. When it is necessary to cut down costs, it is better to omit nonessential features completely than to skimp on the quality of those contributing to fundamental soundness.

Loans Insured for Structural Changes

In cases where such improvements as an elevator or a built-in air-conditioning system become a structural part of a building a loan for the purchase and installation of such equipment would be eligible for insurance under the Property Improvement Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration.

Contractors Association of Palm Springs Reduces Building Costs

In an effort to reduce building costs in Palm Springs and thus to stimulate building activities and to provide more employment for Palm Springs workmen, the Palm Springs Chapter of the Building Contractors Association of Southern California has issued the following letter:

Palm Springs Building Trades Council,
Palm Springs, California.

Dear Sirs:

The Building Contractors Association of Southern California, Palm Springs Chapter, recognizes your Council as the accredited organization representing the Building Trades, and in giving consideration to existing conditions we also recognize that we are the trustees for all those involved in the building industry, particularly those who have to do with home building and home ownership. We have, therefore, endeavored to weigh all factors in arriving at a solution, taking into consideration the owner, the employee and the employer.

The Association is well aware that any attempt on its part to arbitrarily set a wage scale or to attempt to bargain without a premise would be foolish and unfair.

The Association is desirous of stabilizing conditions in the construction industry including rates of pay, and number of hours that men are to work. It feels however, that any agreement that might be made between the industry and labor must be based upon an economic factor that would cause the industry to thrive and grow, thereby giving employment to the largest number possible.

The Association has no quarrel with labor, and is in sympathy with its aims and objectives. Some of the controversy that has existed between the employee and the employer is due to the unfair methods that some employers have used with labor.

It has been and now is the desire of the members of this Association to give labor every consideration in order that a relationship between the employer and the employee may be carried on in a practical and sensible way. Any relation which may possibly endure between your Council and this Association must take into consideration the general public and the home owner. When a wage scale is set so high as to discourage and throttle the industry, labor is the first to suffer. The effort to maintain such a wage brings about little building and great unemployment.

After full and careful consideration by the Association of the important matters involved, it has adopted the following policy as the only solution, which will stimulate building and benefit both labor and employer.

March 25, 1938.

Therefore the Palm Springs Chapter of the Building Contractors Association of Southern California has adopted the following policy:

First: We will recognize the Palm Springs Executive Board of the American Federation of Labor as the sole bargaining agency for the building trades in Palm Springs. This, however, shall not be construed in any way to mean that we do not recognize the right of every man to work regardless of any organization affiliation.

Second: That the Palm Springs Executive Board of the American Federation of Labor recognize the Palm Springs Chapter of the Building Contractors Association of Southern California as the sole bargaining agency for the General Building Contractors and Sub-contractors in Palm Springs.

Third: We accept and recognize the forty hour week.

Fourth: We agree to pay not less than the scale herein submitted. This scale is based on the prevailing Federal Index cost of living, and is the only practical and fair way now available for determining what is a fair wage scale.

The following scale is effective April 1, 1938:

(Per eight-hour day)

Carpenters, rough and finish	... $ 8.00
Cement Finishers 8.00
Electrical Workers 8.00
Bricklayers 9.00
Plasterers 10.00
Plaster Tenders 8.00
Plumbers 9.00
Lathers 10.00
Tile Setters 8.00
Roofers 7.00
Painters 7.00
Sheet Metal Workers 6.40
Laborers, common 4.40

You will recognize the fairness of this policy and our keen desire to cooperate with labor for the general benefit of all those involved.

Respectfully yours,

Palm Springs Chapter of the Building Contractors Association of Southern California.

Blind Man Tells About Seeing Eye Dog

The Palm Springs Lions Club is attempting to raise $500 to purchase a seeing eye dog for a blind person. One hundred and seventy dollars is now on hand for this purpose, therefore $330 more is needed.

Yesterday noon Dr. John Robertson Macartney read an interesting letter to the Lions Club from the general manager of the National Eye Dog Association, excerpts from which are printed as follows:

First of all, I will say that personally I can speak with the greatest enthusiasm as to the use of one of these dogs. I have been blind twenty-three years and have had my dog eight years. He has been a loving companion and has led me without mishap all over this state through every kind of traffic.

We are the National Eye Dog Association, Inc., an independent California, non-profit, corporation, not connected with any other organization doing this type of work. We are willing to supply dogs to the blind of any part of the country. But we train the men and women to use them at our headquarters, right here in Los Angeles.

We make no charge to the blind people for the dogs, but the person who is trained has to pay his or her transportation and room and board while taking the two weeks training at this point. At the present time we do not have boarding accommodations on our grounds for our pupils, but we arrange boarding accommodations with special service to the blind in our vicinity. These cost about $15.00 a week at this time. Usually the training does not take longer than two weeks for the blind person to use the dog.

All of our work is sponsored by people who take memberships in our association, or who sponsor a dog outright. We ask $500.00 for the sponsoring of each dog, and the association supplements the balance of our cost of training. This money may be raised by a club or organization, or given outright by an individual or collected from or through many individuals. It costs us a thousand dollars or more to produce the kind of a dog we deliver—one that comes of a fine blood line, body and brain matured, good sight, hearing and teeth, and dependable nerves and temperament. It takes years to produce such a strain out of the breed, and many months of hard training to educate him to be a reliable leader. (We have specialized in German Shepherds, but occasionally use any other breed that is suited to the work.)

Our trainer is Captain Lambert Kraimer, who developed this type of work for the German government and trained over 3,000 of the war blind and citizens in that country. All of our dogs are selected by him, and each man and woman individually trained under his direction. We recognize that in this experience the dog becomes the man's eyes, and his life depends on the faithful performance of the animal, and while we know we cannot have absolute perfection in all points, we are trying to give the best in the world to the blind of this country, and we feel that the best is none too good for them.

This is a glorious work and a glorious experience to receive sight and independence through one of these marvelous dogs.

Before we can supply the dog, however, the money is not the main thing. (The $500.00 must be raised somewhere, somehow, and most sponsors like to choose the people to whom the dog will be given. Once in a while someone gives us $500.00 and lets us select the person.) But one of the most important parts of this work is that the blind person who wants a dog be fitted to receive one, and that the dog be made use of in accordance with its value. Therefore we try not to have the sightless person become too enthusiastic about the dog until we know if he is fitted to use a dog. We do not wish to disappoint anyone. We don't want the dogs to lie around, idle, too much, and we want them to have a reasonably comfortable home and a master who will be sure to take the right interest and loving care of the dog in return for its marvelous training and devotion. The man should have a warm, comfortable home, keep the dog always with him, have people in the family or friends who will welcome and look out for both dog and man within reason, and the dog should be worked in harness at least twice daily, and fed, exercised, and petted only by his own master. These dogs are just like adding another human being to the family. They are trained to be unobtrusive, and are gentle, kind, patient and hard working.

We select the dog in accord with size and temperament of user.

The feeding of the dogs costs a neg-

Others from the west coast were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Craig, Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Warner, Pasadena; Robert Dinnitt, Julian, Cal.; Harold Schilling, San Francisco; Miss Joyce D. Stone and Miss Helen Krantz, Pomona; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gray, San Diego; Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Atteel, San Francisco; Mr. Travis Paine and F. V. E. Harris, Sacramento; and Mr. and Mrs. E. Norton of Hollywood.

Tomorrow evening a farewell dinner party complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swett of Medina, New York, who have been guests at the Desert Inn for the season, has been arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bedford Jones at El Mirador.

Eligible amount—around $6.00 a month—maybe more if you want to give the dog a little more or better food, but anyone as a rule can handle this item in exchange for the service and delight the dog renders. The more the dog is used in harness, the more you must keep him well nourished. Some sponsors not only supply the dog, but help the man with extra money to feed his dog, as well.

If the sightless persona cannot pay for his own dog, my advice to a friend who wants to get one for him is by all means have every one you know help you to secure the dog—let them give a dollar or ten or a hundred or whatever they will until you have the necessary $500.00. This association will supplement the balance. None of us would part with our dogs for ten times their cost, once we have them.

With best wishes, and hoping to hear from your further.

Sincerely,
W. R. CHRISTENSEN,
General Manager, National Eye
Dog Association, Inc.

Miss E. Hart, of Hamilton, Ontario, Wins Special Putting Contest

In one of the most interesting final matches, little Miss Hart waded her way through the women's flight to meet George Ring, Los Angeles, who won the touch of a event, and thus won the O'Donnell trophy on the 20th hole.

Putting with the touch of a champion. Miss Hart came to the 18th hole one down. Her opponent then putted to within six inches of the cup. This forced the young lady to get an ace, which she did with a brilliant putt.

Then on the 19th hole she left herself a six foot putt. Again facing the chance of missing and defeat she knocked this one in. This finish seem to unnerve George Ring as he missed a very short one to lose the match one down.

Result of match play: First round, Mrs. H. J. Lockhart defeated Mrs. Channing Wells; Mrs. George Ring defeated Mrs. Casper Clarke; Mrs. T. O'Donnell defeated Miss M. Hart; Mrs. R. G. Geiger defeated Mrs. Phil Boyd; Mrs. H. E. Crawford defeated Mrs. W. Badger; Mrs. H. H. Timkin defeated Mrs. H. Tanzie; Mrs. L. Sands defeated Mrs. J. B. Dougherty; Mrs. A. H. Beans defeated Mrs. Atwater; Mrs. Milt Hicks defeated Mrs. John Crawford; Miss E. Hart defeated Mrs. George Howard.

Second round results: Mrs. George Ring defeated Mrs. H. J. Lockhart; Mrs. R. G. Geiger defeated Mrs. T. O'Donnell; Mrs. H. H. Timkin defeated Mrs. E. Hart; Mrs. H. E. Crawford; Miss E. Hart defeated Mrs. Sands; Mrs. Ginger Hicks defeated Mrs. A. H. Means.

Third round results: Mrs. R. G. Geiger defeated Mrs. Ginger Hicks, and then defeated Mrs. George Ring; Miss E. Hart defeated Mrs. H. H. Timkin.

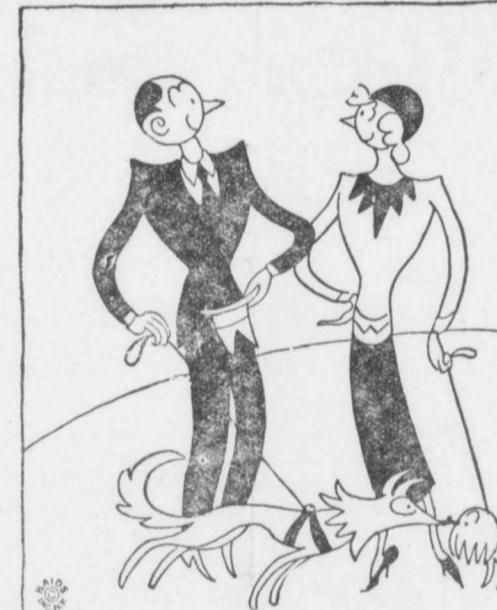

Finals: Miss E. Hart, Hamilton, Ontario, defeated Mrs. R. G. Geiger, Canton, Ohio.

RESULTS MEN'S EVENT

First round Phil Boyd defeated C. H. Clarke; W. E. Beach defeated H. H. Wright; J. Sweeney defeated H. E. Crawford; W. Alexander defeated F. V. E. Harris; Sacramento; and Mr. and Mrs. E. Norton of Hollywood.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

This verse from the Psalms, "They that trust in the Lord shall be as mount Zion, which cannot be removed, but abideth for ever," is the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Reality" on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The Lesson-Sermon includes these other verses from the Psalms: "Great is the LORD, and greatly to be praised; and his greatness is unsearchable. . . . All thy works shall praise thee, O LORD; and thy saints shall bless thee. They shall speak of the glory of thy kingdom, and talk of thy power; . . . Thy kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all generations. . . . The LORD is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works."

Among the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, are the statements: "Reality is spiritual, harmonious, immutable, immortal, divine, eternal." "The spiritual fact, repeated in the action of man and the whole universe, is harmonious and is the ideal of Truth."

Saturday promises to be something of a gala day.

Carl Schmidt, splendid painter of Western Life, has one canvas hanging in the Desert Inn Galleries which is a humorous deviation from his usual subject matter. He is well known for his colorful interpretations of Navajo Indian life and western landscape, but this one canvas is a graphic illustration of three girls in typical Palm Springs "sun garb" riding bicycles. He calls this painting, "The Western Riders," or "Vitamin D!" Other paintings by Carl Schmidt of subjects more usually associated with him are also hanging in the Gallery.

Bonnie Porter, an ambitious young sculptress, has been in Palm Springs the past several weeks, doing portraits, like miniature plaques, in a white composition which has the appearance of ivory. These miniatures are unusual and cleverly done. They are especially adapted to heads of chil-

Aged Indian Answers Last Summons

Miguel Saturnino, aged Palm Springs Indian, died Wednesday evening while seated at a council meeting of the Agua Caliente tribe of Indians. Saturnino, said to have been at least 85 years old, sat dozing in the firelight as it had been his habit for many years gone by, and he was paid but little attention when he closed his eyes for an apparent nap.

But when he suddenly slumped to the floor from his place in the circle they investigated. Saturnino was dead. Dr. Oliver was called shortly before 10 p. m. and he said the aged man had evidently died in his sleep more than a hour before.

The aged Indian was known to be at least 85 and possibly over 90 years old, other residents of the reservation told Deputy Coroner Seymer Cash when he investigated the case with Chief of Police L. J. Boller of Palm Springs yesterday.

He had told them, they said, that when the Southern Pacific railroad was constructed across the desert from Los Angeles to Yuma, Ariz., in the early '70s, he was a young man and worked on the project.

A resident of the desert area during his entire life, Saturnino had not only aided in building the railroad, but had witnessed finally the construction of improved highways with the growth of automobile traffic which made Palm Springs into one of the most famous health and winter resorts in the world, and the landing of passenger airplanes in the town at the foot of Mt San Jacinto.

He saw magnificent hotels and great homes constructed on acres surrounding the reservation, where the famed hot spring bubbles in a palm grove, and hordes of tourists, lured by the desert, peopled the canyons where as a lad he had played and hunted among the giant palm trees.

Saturnino came here from Cabazon and was adopted by the local Agua Caliente tribe. It is said he was wealthy at one time, having large herds of cattle and horses. At the time of his death, it is reported, he had $262 in his pockets and a sizeable bank account. Surviving him are three nieces, Mrs. Orion Hatchett, Carrie Pierce Casero and Annie Pierce, and the children of his deceased nephew, Amado Miguel.

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock today in the little Catholic church on the reservation.

Mrs. Sarah Meardon of Jacksonville, Ill., was a visitor in the village this week, with her niece, Mrs. H. L. Hemphill of San Bernardino. Mrs. Meardon stated that Palm Springs is the most attractive and interesting place she has visited on her trip west, and expressed the desire to spend next season here with her brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. George MacFarland of Chicago.

Among the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, are the statements: "Reality is spiritual, harmonious, immutable, immortal, divine, eternal." "The spiritual fact, repeated in the action of man and the whole universe, is harmonious and is the ideal of Truth."

Bag Your Pardon, Mr. Ransom

The first published pictures of this year's Desert Circus appeared in last week's issue of The Desert Sun, on the day following the circus. In the group of five pictures appearing on the first page, was one picture that was not captioned. It was the beautiful float of the Desert Fuel Service, entered by M. M. Ransom. In the float was a bevy of lovely girls.

Dining at Claridge's Thursday evening were Mr. and Mrs. George Hopper of Banning, and Mrs. Isabel Turner and John E. King of San Bernardino. Mr. King is a prominent leader in the Democratic party and receiver for a San Bernardino bank.

Cathedral City

Plan Combined Celebration By Cathedral City Water Co. And Chamber of Commerce

The drilling operations for the new well of the Cathedral City Water Company were completed this week as a depth of 385 feet was reached, which is over 100 feet deeper than the well now supplying Cathedral with water.

It is hoped that in about two weeks, by which time the new Cathedral City community hall will be completed, the water company and Chamber of Commerce can cooperate in a combined celebration commemorating these two events, both milestones in the growth and development of this desert community.

The new well is a big improvement over the old one. Not only is it a much deeper well, but it also has a larger casting. It will be protected and screened by a wire fence and a tamarisk tree hedge.

Work got under way this week on the new community hall, and it is hoped that two weeks from now will see its completion, thus making the combined celebration possible at that time.

Many Improvements Being Made In De Luxe Trailer Park

E. J. Ellis is making extensive improvements at his trailer park Deluxe at Cathedral City.

He has added more shelters for trailers and has constructed new, sanitary rest rooms. A unique fence of palm leave stems is now in the process of erection, and when it is completed, it will extend around the entire property.

Some of the present buildings have been moved and rearranged on the property for added utility and convenience. A fine neon sign has been erected advertising the park, and other improvements have been made.

The Deluxe Trailer Park, quite an asset to Cathedral City, has brought many guests to this desert community this season.

News of Casa Reposa

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Mack of San Pedro were guests at Casa Reposa in Cathedral City during the past week.

Mrs. Alvin Dierker of Orange, who has been a guest at Casa Reposa since last November, has returned to her home at Orange, her health much improved by her extended stay on the desert.

Lion's Club Has Real African Lion on Float

The big stuffed lion which was mounted on the float of the Palm Springs Lions Club in the desert circus parade was the first lion brought to Gay's Lion Farm near El Monte, and was the grand-daddy of most of the lions on the farm. He was also the lion shown in the first few feet of every Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer motion picture.

The huge beast had been captured in Africa, and was trained by Mr. Gay himself. When the El Monte Lions Club was organized, old Leo was commanded to get up on the table, and he walked the full length of the 80-foot table and back again, between the banquets, without disturbing the dishes. The stuffed animal was loaned to the local club for its parade float.

PALM SPRINGS STUDENTS VISIT OCCIDENTAL COLLEGE

William Richardson and Robert Patterson, students of Banning Union high school, both of whom live in Palm Springs, were among 150 Southern California high school and junior college men who visited the Occidental College campus recently during the annual "Men's Day."

With Occidental men acting as hosts, the visitors viewed a student-written play in the college little theatre and attended physics and chemistry laboratory demonstrations. Following luncheon, at which Dr. Remsen D. Bird, president of Occidental, spoke briefly, student guests were treated to an exhibition of swimming and diving and other athletic events.

All fraternities held open house for the day.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY FURTHER EXPLAINS RELIEF FOR INDIGENTS

Recent opinion that care of the indigent sick must be administered by the county hospital, was further clarified by Dist.-Atty. Earl Redwine Monday.

That medical attention cannot be brought direct to the indigents' homes was the chief factor which Redwine told the board of supervisors that Dr. W. R. Dorr, superintendent of the county hospital.

"Only in actual emergency cases such as injuries caused by accidents, can treatment be provided by persons not affiliated with the county hospital, and it is up to the authorities to determine when the emergency ends and the patient is to come under county hospital care," Redwine said.

Contracts must be made with hospitals throughout the county for enabling emergency treatment to be provided, it was noted.

Woman Arrested Here For Violating Parole Removed to Riverside

A woman with so many aliases that her true name is not known to the arresting officers, and who recently was arrested in Palm Springs, was removed yesterday afternoon to the county jail at Riverside, on a warrant from Los Angeles charging her with violation of parole on a forgery conviction in the latter county.

Booked Thursday as "Mary Moran," under which name she has been sought by Los Angeles police, the woman was previously jailed in Riverside county, records reveal, as "Mrs. D. S. Reader." Officers from Los Angeles are expected to remove her to that city today.

Mrs. Reader was occupying a house trailer here, which she moved from one location to another in the village a few months ago, when she was taken into custody.

Her record includes arrests at Tucson, Ariz., Los Angeles, Oakland and Riverside under the names of Ivy Lay, Ivy Hereford, Rose Mary Dawn, Mrs. O. E. Logan, Massie Glosop, Doris Reader, Mrs. D. E. Reader and Mary Moran.

The Lions Club netted $91.30 this week for the flood sufferers of Anaheim, through the sale of tickets on a box of groceries and a box of grapefruit, which had been donated. The two Lions who won the prizes donated them in turn to the Friendly Aid Committee.

Deputy Sheriff W. G. Laidley arrived here last week from Riverside to assist the local police department. Deputy Sheriff Sam Wilson is still here representing Sheriff Carl Rayburn. A new officer on the police force is Joe Omlin, pioneer resident who for a number of years had charge of the Desert Inn Garage and then became one of the proprietors of the Plaza Garage.

Untermeyer Says Jews To Boycott Austria

Ending his vacation at Palm Springs Tuesday, Samuel Untermeyer, internationally known lawyer, announced the boycott of the International Jewish League would extend to Austria, now that Austria has been taken over by Germany.

Warning that Germany may undertake "Bartholomew day slaughter against Catholics and Protestants," Untermeyer announced extension of a boycott against German goods into Austria as well.

"Our league," the 80-year-old leader of American Jewry announced, "will of course extend its boycott to Austria. It does not seem possible that a callous world that is apparently so paralyzed that nothing can any longer arouse it to action intends to stand idly and helplessly by and witness the continuous march of their reign of terror by a government that was once a member of the human family, in a carnage of slaughter, trampling civilization under foot in cold blood by the hundreds of thousands without rhyme, reason or pretext."

"If nothing else will galvanize the forces of civilization into life, let them take heed lest these same madmen do not regard this license as a mere preliminary to a Bartholomew day slaughter against Catholics and Protestants such as has befallen Christianity in Germany already, and converted it into a pagan country."

"It is not necessary to spill American blood to stem the tide. The slogan of "Buy American—Boycott Germany Goods" will destroy bankrupt Germany and vindicate American honor and manhood. Why hesitate another moment? Avoid them like the plague which they are—worse than any pestilence that has ever infested suffering humanity."

Willard Eschwig Victim In Tragedy At Whitewater

Tragic death came to Willard Eschwig, popular young man of Palm Springs last Friday.

Eschwig, 22, was truck driver in the employ of the Palm Springs Builders Supply company. He was killed at 12:30 o'clock when several tons of gravel fell upon him in the plant operated by the company at Whitewater river, fracturing his neck.

The accident took place in the presence of three other workers at the gravel pit, located a short distance north of the Whitewater river bridge in that canyon. They were Robert Scrivens, James Jones and Donald Scrivens. Eschwig had climbed into the hopper, Deputy Coroner Seymer Cash reported, apparently to work on the mechanism which is used to load the trucks automatically, when without warning a cave-in of the piled gravel occurred and an avalanche of the material covered him as he stood inside the hopper.

It required 20 minutes to extricate Eschwig's body. When medical aid was brought from Palm Springs, after efforts were made to resuscitate the victim, thought to have been suffocated, it was discovered that he had died from a broken neck.

The young truck driver leaves a wife. She is the former Faye Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Robinson of Banning.

Willard Eschwig was a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. Eschwig, who lived at Banning many years. Willard graduated from Banning High and later worked as messenger at the S. P. station. He was popular with young and old and his demise is mourned by a wide circle of friends.

The remains were taken to the Wiefels mortuary.

Funeral services were held Monday at 10 o'clock at the Wiefels chapel. Rev. Paul Lomax officiated.

Crowds Attend Big Sale at Indian Shop

The close-out sale at Mills' Indian Shop has attracted buyers from the entire surrounding area throughout this week. Many people came here from Banning and Indio to take advantage of the bargain event.

"The sale has proven better, for the first week, than I expected," said Mrs. Lola Mills, yesterday. "However, I had larger stock than ever before, and in order to close out everything, I have cut prices still more on many items. Desert Sun advertising certainly brings results."

Mrs. Mills used the Desert Sun exclusively last week to advertise her sale, and mailed circulars of the full-page advertisement to surrounding communities and postoffice boxes here.

good fountain pen...

A fountain pen is but one of many articles whose prices are equalled by the savings of an all-gas kitchen. It costs dollars less every month to operate gas appliances. This has been proved by practical studies of homes in California

And think of the fine service you get with natural gas! It is as economical of your time as of your money; it's the fastest of all fuels.

Gabbert Tells About Old and New Trails

Following the ancient trails built hundreds of years ago by the Indians in this desert area, and the now famous DeAnza Trail of the founders of San Francisco who came through this region on their tour from Mexico, R. J. Gabbert of Riverside yesterday told members of the Lions Club of the interesting things to be found along these trails.

Gabbert, former state real estate commissioner, member of the state board of education, and editor and publisher of the Riverside Enterprise, is now publicity director of the Nevada-California Power Corporation.

Twenty years ago, while camped with his family in Tahquitz Canyon, and while on a hike in Murray Canyon, he uncovered an ancient olla. This created his interest in such relics and he began his studies of the old trails. He read the diary of De Anza and then proceeded to follow the trail, which enters California at Nogales and comes through Borego Valley where it crosses the mountains to the coast, and up the coast to San Francisco.

Mr. Gabbert stated the Indians and Whites who followed the old trails subsisted on the plants they found in the desert and mountains, and he listed chili seed, mesquite beans, screw-beans, agave buds, mountain acorns, pinon nuts and other plants as their principle food items. From the desert they also obtained plants from which they made their drinks and narcotics.

Mr. Gabbert has found many Indian reliefs, among them a 32-inch olla at the mouth of Snow Creek, and an Indian mortar at Whitewater point. Among the most interesting places he mentioned all of the canyons in the Palm Springs area, and the Bill Keys country near Twenty-nine Palms and Morongo Valley.

The old Butterfield Trail, from St. Louis to Los Angeles and north to San Francisco, which came through Yuma, Borego Valley, and Warner Hot Springs, he said has many historic places along its route. The stage depots were built 20 miles apart, and some of these old depots are still standing.

California Trio To Be Presented In Final Concert

The music lovers of Palm Springs will be afforded their last chance of the current season to hear the fine chamber music organization, The California Trio, in concert at Palm Springs when that group is presented next Thursday afternoon, March 31st, in its final appearance here on the Chamber Concert series under the auspices of the Palm Springs Chamber Music Society. The concert will begin at 4:00 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Ransom.

Mr. James C. Geggie has announced that a limited number of guest tickets are available at $2.00 each for this last of a series of concerts in the village presenting The California Trio. These tickets are obtainable by telephoning or writing to Mrs. James C. Geggie, The Desert Inn.

The trio, composed of Alexander Murray, violin; Michael Penha, cello; and Clair Mellionino, piano, will give a well balanced program including the Trio Opus 1, number 3 (Beethoven); first and second movements from Trio (Ravel), and Trio Opus 32 (Arensky).

Safe Road To Cathedral City Is Requested

Cathedral City, Calif.
March 22, 1938.

To the Editor of The Desert Sun:
May I comment on your recent editorial relative to the location of the highway between Palm Springs and Cathedral City, or rather that portion of it between Araby Point and the Cree Ranch, and also on the letter of Pearl M. McManus, dealing with the same portion of the road.

Those owning property in that area should have due consideration, but for reasons well known I must "skip" discussion of it. However the village of Cathedral City was born via the old winding road, and now with more than a thousand residents to use a road to Palm Springs (principally for the benefit of Palm Springs merchants and institutions) it would seem that careful consideration should be given by all interests relative to the location of such a road.

Our concern is, that what should be done to protect the new road is not being done, nor does it appear from any authoritative source at hand (not excepting the recent army engineers conference) that anything is definitely planned for the future.

We that live here want a safe, passable road to Araby Point at all times; one that will be maintained in good condition; and one that can be maintained should the county find it again under their control.

Safe, clear view curves can be constructed in the old road without undue expense, and maintenance costs would then be very low. As to relative traffic dangers in the two routes, there have been many accidents and a death on the new road when there were no storm hazards. And now as to my friends, and those I do not know, their lives I would safeguard, so please pause and consider this! During the recent storm a fine, expensive car was ruined—stalled on the new road—not at Palm Canyon wash where ruining of cars is expected, but about two miles further east. The occupants were rescued with ropes and they were dragged through the water to safety. Maybe the road was not in a wash, but this car stalled on the highway, and when the water ceased running and the workmen could reach it, the top of the car was visible above the debris. (I have pictures of this car and other features of the flood that are interesting.)

I am sure that all that Cathedral City wants is a good road to Araby Point and then pray to the gods and the highway department that some day a bridge will be constructed at this point so we may reach Palm Springs at all times.

Bill to Permit Sale of Indian Lands, $2589

Senate Bill No. 2589, which would authorize the sale of Palm Springs Indian lands to the highest bidders, is being investigated by the Indian Affairs Committee in Washington. H. H. Quackenbush, director of the local reservation, and his chief, John Dady, have been summoned to testify before the committee. They expected to leave last week, but were still here yesterday. It is believed the bill cannot come before this session of Congress, but will probably be considered by both houses next fall.

Frank Partridge Says Automatic Camera Is Proving Popular

Carry Grant, Phyllis Brooks, and the Earl of Warwick, better known as Michel Brook, were among those in the happy-go-lucky group amusing themselves taking their own pictures in the Photomatic, glorified tin-type machine or automatic camera, in front of the photograph shop of Frank Partridge, Jr., one afternoon this week when the numbering machine on the camera passed the 1300 mark.

So popular has this modern version of the old tin-type proven in Palm Springs, that over 1300 pictures were taken by the camera during the first week and a half that it was in operation at the shop of Frank Partridge.

During Desert Circus Week many localities were seen photographing themselves in their cowboy and cowgirl suits by use of the photomatic.

P. S. Post Office In 5th Spot For Bond Sales

Palm Springs post office stands in fifth place in California in per capita sales of United States Savings Bonds, for a one-year period ending August 31, 1937. Purchases of the bonds here during that 12-months period totaled $23,937.50, which put Palm Springs in tenth place, in total sales for all second class postoffices of California, according to a report received yesterday by Postmaster R. M. Gorham.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgan has announced that the total maturity value of United States Savings Bonds sold through the close of business March 7, 1938, amounted to $1,584,462,875. This total was purchased by more than 1,260,000 investors and represents an average sale for each business day since March 1, 1935, when these bonds were first sold, of $1,720,375.

A record for one day's sale of Savings Bonds was set on Monday, January 10, of this year, when $10,029,775, maturity value, of these bonds were reported sold on this single day. Sales by postoffices throughout the country on that day represented $9,025,350, maturity value of bonds and direct-by-mail orders were received in Washington for Savings Bonds of a maturity value of $1,004,425.

The sale of Savings Bonds for the calendar year 1937 was 34.2% greater than for 1936, and the year 1936 extended the ten-months' sale of these bonds in 1935 by 82.8%.

The total maturity value sale for the calendar year 1937 amounted to $635,419,175, with approximately 600,000 purchasers, and an average sale for each business day of $2,090,200.

Detailed analysis of the daily sale at each of the postoffices throughout the country authorized to sell Savings Bonds was begun on September 1, 1936, and for the year ending August 31, 1937, showed that there was a maturity value sale of $636,748,500, or an average sale of $2,101,500, for each business day for the first year these records were kept.
